Sedona Sunset Tanya Stowe

After an auto accident leaves her crippled and takes her mother's life, Lara Fallon completes her mother's dream of opening a school and offering scholarships to promising young artists. Although Lara is struggling with survivor's guilt, she is thrilled to fulfill one more of her mother's dreams when she hires Alexander Summers, world-renown Flamenco player and professor of art, to perform at the grand opening of The Fallon School of Art. But Alex has a secret. He investigates art theft for UNESCO, and when pieces of Chaco pottery suddenly appear on the black market, Alex is certain The Fallon School of Art is a cover for this illegal operation. He's determined to uncover the link... even if it means romantically pursuing the lovely Lara Fallon. Alex's investigation leads him on collision course with Lara's inner struggle to cope with her mother's death and her own wavering faith in God. Now, Lara's school and her heart are in danger. But is her life as well?
